Top Spam E-mail Sender Stays in Prison

He was (12) _____ jailed for nine years in 2004 for mass distribution of junk e-mail. He appealed against the decision and was trying to get his prison sentence (13) _____, saying that sending bulk e-mail was not against the law. He tried to argue in court that his rights (14) _____ free speech meant he could send as many mails as he liked. The judges disagreed in a 4-3 decision against him. Virginia's state attorney Bob McDonnell said: "This is a (15) _____ victory in the fight against online crime." He added: "Spam not only clogs e-mail inboxes and destroys productivity, it also defrauds citizens and (16) _____ the online revolution that is so critical to . . . economic prosperity."

Jaynes was thought (17) _____ be one of the top ten spammers in the world before the police caught him. He used (18) _____ and false Internet addresses to mail out millions of junk mails. Investigators said he sent as many as ten million mails a day, which (19) _____ him up to $750,000 a month. Many of these mails were for fake goods and services. The court ruled that Jaynes was sending out false information and this was not protected (20) _____ America's laws of free speech. Jaynes' lawyer said the court's decision was dangerous as it meant anyone who sent out bulk mail anonymously could now be arrested. Although keeping Jaynes in prison is good news in the fight against cyber-crime, there are thousands more like him. Experts predict that up to 90 percent of the world's e-mail is junk. Spam also tricks people into giving personal information like bank and credit card details to the spammers.
