Many contemporary policy issues are controversial and conflicting. It is always a challenge for public managers to make proper decision on controversial issues. Please choose any two of the following policy issues as your topics, reviewing the confronting opinions regarding the issues, and then tell us how you would address the controversies if you were the policy maker. (50% for each topic)

You may answer the questions in either English or Chinese.

1. Should prostitution (commercial sex) be legalized?
2. Should death penalty be abolished?
3. Should the government build more social housing to remedy housing inequality?
4. Should we teach gay rights in the elementary school?
5. Should the government fully accept higher education certification taken in Mainland China, including those of medical sciences?
