ESSAY QUESTIONS:

All 4 questions should be answered in English. Each question will be worth 25 points, for a total of 100 points.

1. Introduce briefly “the Arab Spring.” Be sure to provide your understanding about the series of events and to explain its implications for international relations.
2. There is a debate over whether the “G2 (Group of Two)” is in the making in the International Relations scholarship in recent years. Please briefly discuss the arguments from both pros and cons. Do you agree with which side? Why?
3. Discuss from an international political economy (IPE) perspective the possible consequences in association with increasingly volatile and speculative capital flows worldwide.
4. Introduce briefly the background of the United Nations Millennium Development Goals. Do you agree on the argument that these goals are still too difficult to achieve? Why?
