1. Using as the foundation for your analysis one of the major schools of contemporary international relations theory (realism, liberal internationalism, constructivism, critical theory), assess the impact of the conflict between Taiwan and the PRC on the global system. Do the same with regard to the conflict between the Ukraine and Russia, then compare and contrast the respective impacts. Which actors have been drawn into these conflicts, and which actors are likely to be drawn in? Which of the two conflicts is more likely to result in a large-scale war in the near to medium term? Why? (60%) 2. Compare and contrast the effects on the global system of current and future pandemics (such as the Covid pandemic) with those of global warming. In which areas of the global system will each (pandemics and global warming) have the most impact? Who will be most affected by each, and what will be the likely consequences for those most affected? (40%)
