- D. Salen Company finances some of its current operations by assigning accounts receivable to a finance company. On July 1, 2015, it assigned, under guarantee, specific accounts amounting to $150,000. The finance company advanced to Salen 80% of the accounts assigned (20% of the total to be withheld until the finance company has made its full recovery), less a finance charge of 1/2 % of the total accounts assigned.

On July 31 Salen Company received a statement that the finance company had collected $80,000 of these accounts and had made an additional charge of 1/2% of the total accounts outstanding as of July 31. This charge is to be deducted at the time of the first remittance due Salen Company from the finance company. (Hint: Make entries at this time.) On August 31, 2015, Salen Company received a second statement from the finance company, together with a check for the amount due The statement indicated that the finance company had collected an additional $50,000 and had made a further charge of 1/2% of the balance outstanding as of August 31.

Instructions: Make the entry on the book of Salen Company on August 31, 2015 that is involved in the transactions above. (5%)

E. Reed Mangus purchased the Hillside Vineyard at an estate auction in April 2015 for €1,250,000. The purchase was risky because the growing season was coming to an end, the grapes must be harvested in the next several weeks, and Reed has limited experience in carrying off a grape harvest.

At the end of the first quarter of operations, Reed is feeling pretty good about his early results. The first harvest was a success; 500 bushels of grapes were harvested with a value of €50,000 (based on current local commodity prices at the time of harvest). And, given the strong yield from area vineyards during this season, the net realizable value of Reed's vineyard has increased by €25,000 at the end of the quarter. After storing the grapes for a short period of time, Reed was able to sell the entire harvest for €60,000.

Instructions: Determine the total effect on income for the quarter related to the Hillside biological asset and agricultural produce. (5%)
